

Improve your academic writing this year with RLF Fellow Samantha Wynne-Rhydderch

A free, confidential service to help you improve your writing skills

Students at Aberystwyth University at any level of study (from 1st year to postgraduate) – and staff – are welcome to book a session.

The Royal Literary Fund Writing Fellows are professional, published authors whose role is to help you strengthen your writing. In one-to-one sessions, Samantha can help you with:

- Structuring your argument
- Writing clearer and more compelling prose
- Rewriting and editing
- Planning and time management
- Tackling the word count
- Critical thinking
- Paraphrasing

Samantha works Wednesdays and Thursdays during term time.

Sessions last 50 minutes and take place in the Level D Consultation Room in the Hugh Owen Library on Wednesdays and in C27 Llandinam Building on Thursdays.

To make an appointment please email for a booking link:

samantha.wynne-rhydderch@rlfeducation.org.uk

Please note that RLF Writing Fellows do not undertake proofreading, or EAP or TEFL tuition.

Note: Samantha's sessions are in English. To speak with a Welsh medium academic writing skills tutor who offers one-to-one academic support to students, please contact Dr Tamsin Davies ted@aber.ac.uk