Employer's Assessment for Industrial Placement Students

We ask employers to provide feedback to the department at the end of student placements. This feedback is confidential and can be provided in one of the following ways:

- a free format textual report describing the student's progress and performance during the placement;
- report of an internal review;
- by completing the form below.

In any case, please provide the "Overall Rating" mark asked for at the end of this form.

Please send the report to the student's Academic Supervisor, and the Industrial Year Administrator (cs-iy-admin@aber.ac.uk), preferably by email. If you prefer to send a paper copy, please address it to The Industrial Year Administrator, Department of Computer Science, Aberystwyth University, Penglais, Aberystwyth, Ceredigion, SY23 3DB. Please return the Assessment when the student finishes their employment and before the 30th September.

As required by the Data Protection Act 1998, any assessment that you submit about a student may be revealed to the student concerned.

Really Exceptional

The criteria for this are as for Excellent, but with achievements that go way beyond everyone's expectations (including any expectations we have for our first class students). This student will in the future probably either become a Managing Director or inspire the next technology revolution.

Excellent

All the work done by the student was of a very high quality. Work was often completed in less time than normally expected. Student has taken initiatives and performed as a graduate of several years standing. Understands technical developments and processes outside of the immediate work undertaken. Employer tempted to offer an incentive to the student to return.

Very good

A student has glowing reports from the employer, has clearly done more than the employer expected in several areas, and has real achievements during the year at least equal to what they would expect of a good recent graduate. Probably seen as a key employee that they wonder how they will do without.

Good

Employer thoroughly pleased with work done, probably comparing student favourably with other students they have taken on, keen to employ the student if they have a vacancy. The student has been prepared to take initiatives and succeeded at a number of significant challenges. The student has been a credit to the University.

Competent and professional

Employer satisfied with work done, prepared to employ the student if they have a vacancy and write them a decent reference. The student has coped with one or two significant challenges, and proved a reliable employee with proper professional attitudes. The student has certainly not damaged the reputation of the University.

Acceptable

Vast majority of work undertaken was completed to an acceptable standard. Student may have required more supervision or technical help than employer would have wished. Perhaps slow to climb the learning curve. Employer might have dumbed down some (reasonable) challenges given to the student.

Poor, but not without merit

Employer generally feels they just about have earned their salary. You/they have significant reservations about some aspects of behaviour and/or technical achievement, though. Academic supervisor would prefer it if we didn't have to have students like this.

Very poor

Some positive things to be said, but not many, and clearly the employer didn't get value. Employer may have felt like firing him/her in mid-year (but some employers never would, of course). Academic supervisor feels pretty embarrassed about the student.

Disastrous

Nothing positive to be said, and indeed may have had a negative effect on colleagues. The employer wishes the student had never arrived. Academic supervisor agrees.
